

PURPOSE OF THIS DOCUMENT

From 1 January 2010 the New Zealand Institute of Chartered Accountants (NZICA) is introducing a new academic policy for students who wish to become members of the College of Chartered Accountants (CAs).

This document sets out the transitional arrangements that have been put in place to accommodate students who commenced their accountancy study before 1 January 2010. Accountancy studies are considered to have commenced when a student successfully passes a degree level paper in accountancy at an accredited tertiary institution (ATI).

There are two transitional pathways available to students:

Pathway A – Recommended transitional pathway

Students may transfer to the 2010 academic policy and receive concessions towards the 2010 required accounting topics on the basis of study already completed. The attached schedule sets out the papers that are considered acceptable to meet the 2010 required accounting topics. Students can use the schedule to tick off the papers they have completed to determine if this is their preferred option.

If students have not completed all of the required advanced accounting topics they:

- may complete the approved stage 3 or approved concessionary stage 2 paper/s as listed in the schedule, by 31
 December 2010
- must complete the approved stage 3 paper/s from 1 January 2011.

Students who choose this option can also take advantage of the reduced liberal studies requirement introduced in the 2010 academic policy and need only complete 30 credits in liberal studies within their four year programme. "Liberal" refers to general studies that are neither accounting nor business-related in subject matter.

Students choosing this option must:

- meet the remainder of the academic requirements, including:
 - o four years' degree level study
 - o completion of a bachelor's degree
 - o completion of the required business topics (as listed in the attached transitional schedule), and
- must complete their study and apply for provisional membership within 10 years of commencing their accountancy study. Accountancy studies are considered to have commenced when a student successfully passes a degree level paper in accountancy at an accredited tertiary institution (ATI).

Pathway B – Alternative transitional pathway

Students who began their accountancy study before 1 January 2010 may elect to complete their studies in accordance with the CA academic policy under which they commenced (subject to the expiry date of the relevant academic schedule). Accountancy studies are considered to have commenced when a student successfully passes a degree level paper in accountancy at an accredited tertiary institution (ATI).

Where a student chooses this option, they must meet the required topics of the relevant policy, including the liberal percentage requirements, in full. These students will not, however, be required to complete the accounting and business percentage requirements.

2010 academic policy

Students who have commenced their study before 1 January 2010 can also choose to meet the 2010 academic policy in full. Details of the full 2010 academic policy are available on the Institute's website: www.nzica.com
